THE DELEGATION AND THE SENATORSHIP.

A correspondent sends us the following item which first appeared in the Milwaukee Sentinel, and later in the Sunday Telegraph, and asks us if the statement in the dispatch can be relied upon so far as the delegation being solid is concerned:

JANESVILLE, Dec. 29.—The entire Rock county delegation, Senate and Assembly, is understood to be united on Matt H. Carpenter as the next United States Senator from this State. In this they represent as far as my observation goes the sentiment of nine-tenths of the people of this county, the original stamping ground of Matt.

However much the many friends of Mr. Carpenter may regret it, the delegation is not at the present time sold for him. No doubt some of the delegates will support Mr. Carpenter, believing that in doing this they will represent the sentiment of their constituents. It seems that in the First District, especially in Beloit city and town, and in Newark, the Senatorial pulse beats warmly for Mr. Howe, and a majority of the Republican voters there being in favor of his re-election, Mr. Burge will support him. Mr. Lovejoy will no doubt give Mr. Carpenter his earnest support from the first. In his District, the Republican sentiment is strongly in favor of Carpenter as between the three prominent candidates, and of course he will faithfully represent it. Mr. Gardiner, of the Third District, is not pledged to any candidate and refuses to say publicly who will be his choice for Senator. He is friendly to Mr. Carpenter, and as the opinion in his District is believed to be in favor of the ex-Senator, he will probably vote for him. In no event can there be any fear that Mr. Gardiner will misrepresent his District. Senator Richardson has not promised to support any of the three prominent candidates now engrossing public attention. He goes to Madison governed by a spirit of independence as regards the Senatorship. He has no ax to grind and no selfish ambition to satisfy. He will vote on the question of United States Senatorship, as public policy, and the prevailing sentiment of the Seventeenth district demands. He is friendly to Mr. Carpenter, and is on good terms with both Mr. Keyes and Senator Howe. This is the attitude of the delegation exactly, and whoever says it is pledged to any man or set of men, misrepresents the delegation, and attempts to forestall public opinion.

THE GREAT QUESTION.

The great question for the coming Legislature to settle is that of the United States Senatorship. There is a good deal of other work to do, but in point of importance that question leads all others. The public mind is now preparing for the contest. It will be a severe one, though we hope that it will be shorn of all bitterness and hate. The three prominent candidates—Carpenter, Howe and Keyes, are supported by warm friends and will not surrender without first making a desperate struggle. It will be one of the most hotly Senatorial contests—unless indications prove false—that we ever had in Wisconsin. The candidates being especially prominent in public life, and known all over the country, will give additional importance to the struggle. Carpenter once occupied a conspicuous place in the Senate, and aside from that, is credited with possessing one of the most brilliant legal minds in this country. Howe has sat in the Senate Chamber for eighteen years, and his long connection with the highest legislative department in the land, has given him a national reputation. Outside of the Northwest, Keyes is not so well known as his opponents. He has figured in State politics for many years, has been postmaster for nearly nineteen years, and is known as a shrewd and indefatigable worker in party politics. These have given him a notoriety which extends even outside the Northwest. Whether the Legislature will take either one of these candidates or will select another whose name has scarcely been mentioned, is a question regarding which any conjectures can not be safely made. Carpenter's unjust defeat four years ago, his great power as an orator, his vast legal ability, and his irresistible magnetism, will make his friends stick by him to the last moment. Howe's clean record, his faithfulness to party, his alleged self-sacrifice for the benefit of the party, and the fact that he can be trusted at all times, will rally around him a good many supporters who will not see their leader defeated without a strong effort to secure his re-election. Keyes' boldness and dash, his capability to pull many wires, his genial manner, his perfect willingness to help his friends, his power to organize, and his radical Republicanism, challenge the hearty support of the young Republicans of the State, and not a few old ones.

It is to be hoped that the Legislature of Wisconsin will not make a mistake in the selection of a Senator. The question is one which has some gravity attached to it. To send an unfit man—one who is not morally, politically, and mentally, worthy of the high position, would be a dishonor to the State. With brains he should have integrity; with intellectual force he should have moral power; with honesty of purpose he should have these accomplishments which will add grace and honor to the Senate of the United States. It is not impossible to select this sort of a man; and the members of the Legislature should go about their work with a consciousness of the resposibility which would command universal respect. They should see to it that the man of their selection, take him for all in all, is best qualified by intellectual power, energy of character, knowledge of men, combination of personal qualities, frank, high spirited and manly bearing, to represent Wisconsin in the Senate. A man of this make-up in mind and character, would reflect credit on the State and win the deep respect and the abiding confidence of both parties. It should be the unwavering purpose of the Legislature to elect such a man that Wisconsin might take rank with New York, Massachusetts, Maine or Vermont in its Senatorial representation. It can be done and should be done.

The speech which Matt Carpenter made at Berlin on New Year's day at the reunion of the soldiers and sailors, was one of the happiest efforts of his life. Aside from its being brilliant and eloquent, as all his speeches are, it was interesting for its historical information. On the financial question he said: "Every long war is followed by financial depression, or in plain Saxon, by hard times. The revolutionary war left the country flooded with Continental money so depreciated in value from the volume issued, that a cart load would not buy a breakfast. Great Britain, the richest nation of the world, after her wars with Napoleon, remained under suspension of specie payment over 20 years; and finally abolished brevet-rank in currency and returned to specie as a basis of business, through trials, individual bankruptcies, riots and starvation among the people. But with bull-dog tenacity she adhered to her purpose, as Grant did to his plan for taking Richmond, until she reached the shore, and has never since departed from the theory of hard money." In closing on the financial question he said the age of depreciated money is past. "The government and its corporations and citizens have resumed specie payments to-day; and there is every reason to expect that the government will be able to stand its ground in this great financial advance, notwithstanding the wiles of brokers, as you held yours amid the storms of war." A report of the speech shows that Carpenter thinks the government made a grave mistake after the war in not remanding the rebel States to the condition of territories. This is the sentiment of all loyal citizens at this particular time.

There is something wrong in Oshkosh A strange thing has happened. It is mysterious, and is past finding out. It is more wonderful and even more to be rejoiced over than resumption. The annual report of the Trustees and the Superintendent of the Northern Hospital for the Insane is out, and the Madison Democrat says it does not ask for an appropriation for "an addition to the Superintendent's ten acres of parlors." What this can mean is difficult to understand. Why Dr. Kempster didn't ask for $300,000 or $400,000 to enlarge this building with, is a little mysterious to say the least. Last year this Institution seemed to impress the public with the idea that it owned the treasury of Wisconsin, and could draw upon it for any amount. Whether the "starch" has been taken out of it by the snub it received last winter, or whether it condescended not to draw on the tax-payers for additional parlor room, is not yet settled. That it don't want half a million dollars for enlargements, is glory enough for one year.

Now you see it and now you don't see it—such is resumption.—Madison Democrat.

Yes we do see it and very plainly, that the Democratic party was mistaken about resumption. They said it couldn't be done, that the first step could not be taken on the day named in the Act, without disaster to the country. The greatest financial event in American history has taken place, and it does not create even a ripple on the financial sea. People are offered gold, but they prefer greenbacks, which the Republican party created and made as good as gold. The Democrats have taken no hand in this, except to attempt to prostitute the greenback, to destroy the credit of the Government, and to delay, and in fact to make impossible, the day of resumption.

A dispatch from Washington to the Chicago Journal on Thursday, shows how resumption worked at the sub-treasury, in New York. It says: Treasurer Hillhouse was prepared to meet the probable rush for gold, but the demand was very light, while in many instances greenbacks were preferred. The first demand was for $210, but not another dollar in gold was paid out for half an hour. Within that time there were a half dozen applicants for sums less than $50, but as no payments are made under that amount, they were refused. National bank bills were also offered, but were not taken, only legal tenders being exchangeable.

The Potter Committee seems to be doomed to disappointment and to be kicked about like a foot-ball. It went to New Orleans a few days ago to look for Republican frauds, and after staying in that city three days the members left in disgust for Washington. A dispatch from New Orleans says "the Committee soon packed up and left for home when they discovered themselves the victims of a merciless hoax concocted by Mrs. Jenks. The package of letters dropped in Elkins' store turns out to be forgeries gotten up as a sensation."

Mr. Alex. J. Reid, editor of the Appleton Post, has written an annual review of the City of Appleton, giving an account of its water power and industries and a historical sketch of Fox River Valley. It is a pamphlet of 74 pages and is extensively illustrated. Mr. Reid is an industrious writer, a great worker, and has done Appleton good service in his annual reviews.

The immense popularity of four per cent funding loan can be comprehended somewhat by the fact that on the 2d day of January there were $8,590,150 sold. This sale is unprecedented in the history of our bonds.

Hon. Charles H. Phillips, of Lake Mills, Senator-elect, who died on New Year's day, was a strong supporter of Mr. Keyes for the Senate.

SPECIE PAYMENT.

The Resumption of Specie Payments Commences Very Quiet.—There is no Demand for Gold, and no Excitement.

ST. LOUIS, Mo, Jan. 2.—Resumption so far is entirely successful in St. Louis, it not having produced even a ripple in banking or commercial circles. Banks and many business firms paid out gold when requested to do so, but currency has been most in demand.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Between $400 and $500 in gold was paid out by the banks to-day. In nearly every case, the gold was wanted as a novelty, customers generally preferring to take currency.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 2—The resumption of specie payment to-day has not created a ripple of excitement here in financial and business circles. The local banks had supplied themselves with considerable gold, but there was no demand for it whatever.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 2.—Banks being closed yesterday, this was resumption day in St. Paul. Coin and paper currency were treated as interchangeable, except that some banks tendered gold. The First National paid out about $1,500 in gold, with many refusals in favor of greenbacks and certified checks.

TOLEDO, Jan. 2.—There was nothing to specially mark the resumption of specie payments here to-day. Each of the banks had provided itself with a few thousand dollars in gold, and several of them professed their readiness to pay either circulation or deposits in gold if it should be desired, but, up to the close of business hours, there had not been to exceed $600 paid out.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 2—Specie payments were resumed by the Cincinnati banks without the least excitement or trouble. Nearly all the banks had made prepartions for the event, and were ready to pay gold to those desiring it. Nobody, however, seemed to want it. The entire amount paid out is ascertained to have been $3,000, and a portion of this was taken for special purposes, such as paying off hands in manufacturing establishments. One merchant was offered a $5,000 bag of gold in payment of a check, but he refused it, preferring currency. Some dissatisfaction was heard at the Sub-Treasury at the refusal of the Government to pay the interest on bonds in gold.

GOT THE DROP.

End of the Exploits of a Notorious Western Bully.

BISMARCK, D. T., Jan. 2—James Brooks, a bully, rode sixty miles day before New Year's in advance of his wagon train, coming from Fort Keogh, to reach Bismarck to see the old year out with a high time. He attended a dance at Keno Hall, where a number of fast women and soldiers were waltzing out 1878. Brooks' record was that "no man ever got the drop on him." About 11 o'clock he slapped a woman's face who told him to keep quiet. A regular knock-down followed, and after several black eyes were scored, Brooks received a ball from a navy revolver, passing into his mouth and out at the back of his head. He died before morning. Corporal John Rowland, Company G. Seventh Cavalry, was the last man to clinch with Brooks, and he is under arrest. Nobody seemed to see the shot fired.

FOR LIBERTY.

A Desperate Struggle of Prison Convicts for Liberty.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Jan. 2—This afternoon ten convicts in Anamosa penitentiary broke out of the stonecutters' shed and made a desperate effort for liberty, the yard being closed only by a board stockade. One convict was shot dead by the guard, another shot through the bowels and will die. The remainder escaped from the yard. Two were shot by the guards, both dropping with a broken leg. Five others were soon recaptured, John Donohue, a three-year man from Scott county, being the only one now at liberty.

SCHURZ AND SHERIDAN.

The War Between the Interior and War Department Over the Indian Question.

WASHINGTON, Jac. 2.—Secretary Schurz says he will not require or use six weeks in preparing his reply to Sheridan, but intends to have it ready by Saturday. He is pleased to see that Gen. Sheridan withdraws from his position that appropriations by Congress admitted of proper supplies for the tribes he had mentioned as needlessly suffering. As to cases of dishonesty in Indian Agents, on which Sheridan lays such stress, the Secretary says he omitted to state, and probably did not know, that the Department had proceeded against them as fast as it could find them out. As to the charges that a contractor who had been shown to be dishonest had still received large contracts after he was discovered, the answer is that this happened before the term of Secretary Schurz, and that this same contractor was the first case he prosecuted after coming into office.

MAINE ELECTION.

Canvassing the Vote—The Democrats and Greenbackers Caucus.

AUGUSTA, San. 2.—The Legislative Committee on Gubernatorial Votes examined the returns of the late election, and will report to-morrow. The term of office of Governor Connor expired Wednesday, and by a provision of the constitution the President of the Senate, J. Manchester Haynes, is and will continue to be acting Governor until the new Governor is elected.

The Democrats and Greenbackers held a caucus to-night with closed doors. In the secret session it was voted, without dissenting, to send to the Senate the names of Garcelon and Smith. In that case the election of Garcelon is assured.

A SHRAP THIEF.

Ten Thousand Dollars Stolen from the Government Printing Office.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—To-day, between 11 and one o'clock, a thief entered the government office and, watching his opportunity, took from the safe of the disbursing clerk a package of currency containing $10,000, intended for paying off the employes and for the purchase of material and made his escape without observation. Detectives were immediately put to work, and it is thought the money will soon be recovered.

OBITUARY.

Death of Elizabeth Schilz, Aged One Hundred and Four Years.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 2.—Elizabeth Schilz, mother of the proprietor of the Wisconsin House, died yesterday at the age of 104 years and 3 months. Deceased came to this country aged 74 years; resided in Port Jervis, New York, and near Erie, Pennsylvania, until 1858, when she moved to this city. She was active until she reached the age of 102 years.

SCARLET FEVER.

Fearful Ravages of the Scarlet Fever at Silver Islet.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 2—A Duluth special to the Pioneer Press says scarlet fever is decimating the miners on Silver Islet, a mere rock in Lake Superior with rich silver mines. Of one hundred and sixty sixteen died in a month.

IN WAUPUN.

The Murderer Chase Sentenced for Life.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Jan. 2.—The curtain fell upon the Chase-Goodhue excitement last Tuesday. The prisoner was taken to to Eau Claire by the sheriff about two hours after his sentence to escape the mob for the third time. He is now in State's Prison at Waupun for life.

FROZE OUT.

KENOSHA, Wis., Jan. 2.—A three masted schooner, whose name cannot be learned, is lying very near the South harbor pier, being unable to make the harbor. No communication has yet been opened between the vessel and the shore. Fears are entertained for her safety, if there should be a change in the wind.

SCALDED TO DEATH.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 2.—Gottfreit Beyer, a child of Martin Beyer, on the South Side, fell into a tub of hot water, and was terribly scalded. He died a few hours after the accident.

Resumption thus far proves that a large majority of people prefer greenbacks and National bank notes to gold.

BUSINESS IN THE WEST.

The Metal Production—Statement of Wells, Fargo & Co. Upon the Subject.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—Wells, Fargo & Co.'s annual statement of precious metals produced in the States and Territories west of the Missouri river, including British Columbia, and receipts in San Francisco from the west cost of Mexico, during 1878, shows aggregate products as follows: Gold, $38,056,231; silver, $38,746,391; lead $3,452,000; the total being less by $17,267,132 than for 1877. California shows an increase in gold of $2,068,000, but a decrease in silver, etc., of $1,323,000. Nevada shows a total falling off of $16,398,341, the yield from the Comstock being only $21,295,043, as against $37,911,710 for 1877. Montana shows a marked decrease in silver, Utah a falling off of over two millions, but nearly one million of it is caused by the reduced valuation of silver and lead bullion. Although Colorado shows $1,680,802 less than for 1877, the yield has been really greater as reports for 1877 duplicated in the product of certain localities, but the duplication was not discovered soon enough to be corrected in the statement for that year. The production by States and territories is as follows:

California	$18,920,461
Oregon	1,213,724
Idaho	1,868,122
Utah	6,064,613
New Mexico	453,813
Dakota	2,215,804
British Columbia	1,283,460
Nevada	35,181,949
Washington Territory	73,311
Montana	9,763,640
Colorado	6,232,747
Arizona	2,287,983
Mexico, west coast	1,594,995

Bullion from the Comstock lode contained 45 per cent gold and 55 per cent silver. Of the so-called base bullion from Nevada, 30 per cent was gold and of the whole product of the State, 35 per cent was gold. All the probabilities now indicate that the yield of gold and silver from all sources named for 1879 will not greatly exceed $70,000,000.

Bayard Taylor's Real Name.

That Mr. Taylor's name was "James Bayard Taylor," was a statement printed in divers newspapers last spring. Mr. Taylor corrected it in a letter which has just been printed for the first time in the Wilmington Commercial. "I was named by my parents," he said, "simply 'Bayard,' after James A. Bayard, the grandfather of your Senator. As a boy of 16 or 17, I sometimes attached 'J.' (never James) to my name, foolishly thinking it would look better. When my first volume of poems came out, Rufus Griswold, my literary friend, put 'James Bayard Taylor' on the title page, and the small private edition was printed before I could correct it. The matter was an annoyance to me then, and has been ever since. I felt bound to retain the "J," however, until I was 21, and became legally responsible for my signature. Then I dropped it instantly, and have never since used anything else than my original and only true name."

Milwaukee Statistics.

The annual review of the business of Milwaukee makes an excellent showing in 1878, over the figures of 1877, commercially. More goods, in nearly all classes of trade, have been disposed of, but at lower figures than in recent past years, and the money showing therefore does not fairly represent the increase in the trade volume.

The amount of wheat received during the year was 21,900,913 bushels, and shipped 17,037,808 bushels; of flour received and manufactured, 2,782,648 barrels, and shipped 2,620,580 barrels. The receipts of oats were 1,538,640 bushels, of barley, 2,221,878 bushels, of rye 756,926 bushels, and of corn 372,266 bushels. The coal receipts were 292,817 tons, salt 219,826 barrels, lumber 134,168,000 feet, shingles 161,349,000, lath 7,603,000.

The figures from the various departments of the city are also interesting. The total number of deaths for the year was 1,813 against 2,243 in 1877; total number of marriages, 1,008, against 1,017 in 1877; total number of births, 3,004, against 2,359 in 1877. The total receipts of the office of Collector of Internal Revenue were $2,154,436.90. Of the post office, $150,176.73.

Queer Winter Statistics.

From the New York World.

Europe is evidently in, as our "philosopes and clerks" have forewarned us, for one of her cold winters in this year 1879 that is coming in with its Christmas to fall on a Thursday. In the Vosges there seems to be a precise repetition of the scenes so vividly depicted by Erckmann-Chatrian in "Le Conscrit" as marking the terrible season in which the fragments of the Grand Army straggled homeward from Moscow, and England has not known such a snowfall for a generation as has just descended upon her. This fact has an especial interest in view of some queer statistics adduced not long ago by a writer in the Gardener's Chronicle, who laid it down as a rule that "any very hard winter is likely to recur either forty-one years or eighty years later." Precisely what this period may coincide with in Nature, the writer did not, perhaps could not, explain; that may be left for the investigators who have laid down the rule of the connection of sunspots with commercial panics and Indian famines. It is certain, however, that he brought to back him a very large number of coincidences. Thus the hard winter of 1683 was followed eighty years later by the hard winter of 1763. At the same interval from the hard winters of 1708, 1716, and 1739, came those of 1788, 1796, and 1819. The three successive winters of 1783, 1784, and 1785 fall under the forty-one years' rule. The winter of 1754 was very severe, so was that of 1795, while that of 1835 was unusually mild. The hard winters of 1848, 1855, 1859, 1860, 1864, and 1865 all followed upon hard winters occurring either forty or eighty years previously, and the writer in the Gardener's Chronicle said that, relying on this rule, he predicted the cold weather of 1867 and 1875. Against the winter of 1878-'9 are both chances, since the winter of 1798-'9 was very cold, and so was that of 1837-'8.

Hosts of People are Martyrs

To sick headache, that infallible symptom of a disordered stomach, liver and bowels. Many suffer from it as many as three or four times a week. They do so needlessly, for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by toning the digestive organs and regulating the bowels and liver, removes the cause, and dispels the painful symtom. The intimate sympathy between the brain and the abdominal region causes the slightest disorder affecting the latter to be reflected, as it were, in the organ of thought. The reform instituted by the Bitters when the digestive, secretive and evacuative functions are in a state of chaos, has other and more beneficial results, viz, the complete nutrition of the whole physical economy, the restoration of appetite and repose, and an increase in the power of the system to resist diseases of a malarial type.

A PLATONIC MARRIAGE.

A True History of the Relations of George Eliot and Mr. Lewes.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The relations of George Eliot with the late Mr. George Henry Lewes have come in for some share of attention since the death of the latter. In this connection the London correspondent of the New York Times—who at times appears to monopolize a great deal of the knowledge of the world—laments the fact that the English papers neglected to make any mention of George Eliot, or Miss Evans, or Mrs. Lewes, or whatever her legal name may now be, in announcing and commenting upon Mr. Lewis' death. According to the Times' London man, the rather disreputable woman to whom Mr. Lewes was married in early life still lives. This statement is directly contradictory of one made over four years ago, on quite as good authority, to the effect that the original Mrs. Lewes had kindly quitted this world, and that the long deferred marriage ceremony between Mr. Lewes and Miss Evans had taken place "out of respect to the prejudices of society and the majesty of the law." When the first Mrs. Lewes abandoned her husband for another man, the biographer of Goethe regarded the unfortunate occurrence like the philosopher he professed to be, and made no effort either to get her back or to deprive her of the right to bear his name. By and by she repented of her folly and came back to Mr. Lewes with so much contrition on her lips, if not in her heart, that he philosophically forgave her, and by living with her thereafter condoned her offense. For a time they lived together in peace and happiness, but the wayward wife soon tired of this monotonous existence, and again eloped. This time she went for good, and never thereafter troubled Mr. Lewes. The latter, by some crook of the English law, was debarred from a divorce after this second offense because he had condoned his wife's former waywardness. So he was compelled to bear with this second freak as philosophically as he had done with the first. Meanwhile Mr. Lewes had made the acquaintance of Miss Evans at the house of the editor-in-chief of The Westminster Review, Dr. Chapman, with whom she resided while acting as his assistant in editing The Review. They were attracted toward each other from the start, and finally came to live together in a sort of Platonic fashion, in defiance of the world. This step, it is related, was not taken hurriedly. They summoned a counsel of their wisest friends—or those who passed for such, Herbert Spencer, John Stuart Mill, Algernon Charles Swinburne, Matthew Arnold, Thomas Carlyle, Wilkie Collins and Gerald Massey being a list of some who were probably consulted, if we may judge by the close intimacy which has always existed between them and the gifted novelist. The delicate difficulties in the way were laid before this plenary council, each of the contracting parties agreeing to abide by the decision, whatever it might be. That decision was all that Mr. Lewes and Miss Evans could ask—and they were told to "obey their own instincts, and not permit an empty technicality to obstruct their happiness. They followed this advice and lived together thereafter as man and wife. Miss Evans soon became know, in her philosophical "set" at least, as Mrs. Lewes, even before the death of the original Mrs. Lewes, and although there was some scandal for a time, and a few acquaintances fell away from them, their intimate friends remain steadfast from first to last. This story of the original Mrs. Lewis being still alive may possibly be true, but if it is, it is a little singular that the widely circulated story of death in 1874 was not sooner contradicted.

Disastrous 'If.'

From the Cincinnati Times.

John Henry used to go to see a girl down on Seventh street, but he doesn't do so any more since the hired girl gave him away. He tells his own story: "You see," he said, "she was a mighty nice girl, and I liked her more intensely than a life-insurance agent talks up his business, and I called around on that fatal evening to see her but a minute on a little matter we had been talking about, and when the wooden-headed hired girl came to the door, I asked for Miss Blank and the girl said she didn't think she was exactly ready to see company and would I wait. I told her to see the young lady and tell her I wanted to see her just a minute, and she needn't dress unless she was undressed. Away the girl went, and presently I heard her sing out: 'Miss Blank, Mr. John Henry is in the parlor and wants to see you, and he says you needn't dress if you are undressed.' That 'if' fixed me, and word was sent down that Miss Blank was not at home to Mr. John Henry, and Mr. John Henry has not been back since."

The Biggest Locomotive Engine.

From the Pittsburg, Penn., Telegraph, Dec. 28.

A huge specimen of locomotive art passed through here yesterday towed by other locomotives, on it way to the Far West. It is a monster tank engine for the New Mexican and Southern Pacific Railroad, (A., T. and S. F. R. R.,) and which is specially intended to work on a long heavy grade at a point on the Rocky Mountains. It is the largest and most powerful locomotive engine ever built in this country. It is a 10-wheel tank engine of consolidated pattern, having eight driving wheels and a pony (two-wheel) truck. The cylinders measure 20 by 26 inches, and the driving wheels are but 4e inches in diameter. The boiler is enormous, being straight, 58 inches diameter. It has 213 tubes, each over 11 feet long. The fire-box is about 10 feet long. A water-tank, almost the entire length of the boiler, rests on top of the engine, and when filled with water will add considerably to the weight. The truck wheels are 30 inches in diameter, and are of paper, with steel tires, similar to those no being used so extensively under the Pullman sleeping-cars and on the Metropolitan Elevated Railroad, New York. This engine when in working order, will weigh 118,000 pounds. The great weight and size of the boiler, and the small driving wheels combined, form a tremendous power well suited to the work the engine has to perform. The eight driving wheels are merely to distribute the weight, for if the weight rested on but four, no track ever laid could stand the pressure. The weight is so great that the Western railroads over which it must pass will not permit it to go over bridges, so it will have to be taken to pieces and carried over in sections. It passed over all the bridges of the Pennsylvania Road without being dismantled.

ST. NICHOLAS,
Scribner's Illustrated Magazine.
For Girls and Boys.

An Ideal Children's Magazine.

Messrs. SCRIBNER & Co, in 1873, began the publication of ST. NICHOLAS, an Illustrated Magazine for Girls and Boys, with Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge as editor. Five years have passed since the first number was issued, and the magazine has won the highest position. It has a monthly circulation of OVER 50,000 COPIES.

It is published simultaneously in London and New York, and the transatlantic recognition is almost as general and hearty as the American. Although the progress of the magazine has been a steady advance, it has not reached its editor's ideas of best, because her ideal continually outruns it, and the magazine as swiftly follows after. To-day ST. NICHOLAS stands

ALONE IN THE WORLD OF BOOKS.

The New York Tribune has said of it: "ST. NICHOLAS has reached a higher platform, and commands for its service wider resources in art and letters than any of its predecessors or contemporaries." The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of Scribner's press."

Good Things for 1878-9.

The arrangements for literary and art contributions for the new volume—the sixth—are complete, drawing from already favorite sources, as well as from promising new ones. Mr. Frank R. Stockton's new serial story for boys,

"A JOLLY FELLOWSHIP."

Will run through the twelve monthly parts,—beginning with the number for November, 1878, the first of the volume.—and will be illustrated by James E. Kelly. The story is one of travel and adventure in Florida and the Bahamas. For the girls, a continued tale,

"HALF A DOZEN HOUSEKEEPERS"

By Katharine D. Smith, with illustrations by Frederick Dielman, begins in the same number; and a fresh serial by Susan Coolidge, entitled "Eyebright," with plenty of pictures, will be commenced early in the volume. There will also be a continued fairy-tale called

"RUMPTY BUDGET'S TOWER."

Written by Julian Hawthorne, and illustrated by Alfred Fredericks. About the other familiar features of ST. NICHOLAS, the editor preserves a good-humored silence, content, perhaps, to let her five volumes already issued, prophesy concerning the sixth, in respect to short stories, pictures, poems, humor, instructive sketches, and the lure and lore of "Jack-in-the-Pulpit," the "Very Little Folks" department, and the "Letter-box," and "Riddle-box."

Terms, $3 00 a year; 25 cents a Number.

Subscriptions received by the Publisher of this Paper, and by all Booksellers and Postmasters. Persons wishing to subscribe direct with the publishers should write name, Post-office, County, and State, in full, and send with remittance in check, P. O. money order, or registered letter to SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, New York.

NASBY.

Mr. Nasby Anticipates the Investigating Committee, and Has an Investigation of His Own.

(CONFEDRIT X ROADS (Wich is in the State uv Kentucky,) Dec. 23, 1878.

I don't want no Senatorial committee down here. I don't want nobody pryin around bringin niggers up to testify ez to wat they know about eleckshuns and votin and sich. Niggers is prejudist, and their mental vishuns is distorted. They don't understand polytix, and hev very dim and confoosed notions of relijun. Ther ain't a nigger neer the Corners wich don't firmly bleeve that the Fifteench Amendment meens that they shel hev the rite to vote, unfettered and unhampered, and that they hev the rite to vote ez they pleese. They can't be made to understand that the sooperior intelligence that lays mostly around Bascomb's, wuz designed by Providence to guide and direct 'em, and that they ought to be thankful that it is here to keer for 'em.

To put niggers into the stand for examinashen is to convict ourselves. Ther ain't ez many uv us to swear ez there wuz the morning uv the elecshun, but there is enuff.

That the country shel hev the troo inwardnis uv wat did reely happen eleckshun day, I hev already held an examinashun, and here it is:

Issaker Gavitt sworn—Wuz present at the poles last eleckshun day, and hed voted. Come without my double-barrelled shotgun, for did not antisipate trouble uv any kind. Hed understood that the niggers hed all agreed to vote the State Dimocratic tikket, in wich case wood as soon they wood vote ez not. Ruther encouraged them. Remember acceptin an invitashun to take suthin with one uv em, and wood hev accepted invitashuns with all uv em. Am fast loosin the prejudice which every white man has agin color. Hev got so that I kin tolerate a niggar, with money, ef he is libral. Two uv them hed voted (them was the two Republican tikkets wich we diskivered in the box) when we diskiverad that every one uv em hed Republican tikkets instid of Dimokratic and that they proposed to vote em. Felt naterally enraged. Dashed the niggers away from the windows and had the poles closed. Rushed home and got my shotgun as did Deeken Pogram, Captain M'Pelter, and the rest uv us. Immejitly notified the niggers thet this kind of a thing woodn't do, and that while we desired to exercise their rites, they must exercise em in accordance with the ijees uv the dominant race, and nothin else. Otherwise they coodn't exercise em. Ther wuz some trouble wich resulted in the killin uv some seventy uv em. Can't state exactly how many wuz killed, ez he didn't count em.

Bleeves in President Hayes, espeshelly sence the appointment uv Mosby ez Consul to Hong Kong. Thinks it would be a grate measure uv pasficashen ef he (Gavitt) cood be appointed to suthin.

Deekin Pogram testified to about the same thing that Issaker did. Wuz willin that the niggers shood vote ef they wood only vote the Dimekratic tikket. Hed overcome the prejodis every Cawcashun wuz bound to hev agin the inferior race, but shood insist, alluz, that the inferior race shood be guided and directed by the sooperior. Ef the sooperior race wished to vote the Dimekratic tikket, the inferior must do likewise, and so on. Otherwise we can't let em vote. We shel insist on hevin em countid in when we make up our Congressional representashun, but we must control their votes. Otherwise the bloated North wood hev the bulge on us. Approves the President's polisy, espeshelly his appintment uv Mosby ez Minister, or whatever it is, to Hong Kong. Nothin so consiliates the Southern mind ez an appintment. Would like to hev it tried on hisself.

Colonel McPelter testified to shoot'n perhaps seven or eight uv em. Bleeved he wuz justified, and appealed to the Northern sense uv rite. Hed the niggers votid the Republikin tickit it would hev bothered us to elect the Dimocratic tickit, suthin that the Corners alluz hed done, and alluz expected to do. Coodent and woodent stand innovashuns. Ef the niggers want to vote let em vote rite, and there will be no objeckshuns to it. Otherwise we can't permit it.

I didn't consider it necessary to take any more testimony. But this I had sworn to, before Bascom, who sealed it offishelly with the end of a whisky glass, and I shel forrerd it to Blane. I hope it will hev proper effeck. I hope the North will see that we desire to recognize the amendments, and that we are willin to go jist ez fur ez possible. We must, however, preserve the integrity uv the old Dimocratic party, and must retane our majorities. When this is understood ther will be no more trouble. When the nigger gits into the proper frame uv mind uv votin ez we want him to, all the bother will end, and ther will be that espeshal kind of peece that we desire. Otherwise, ther will be more worry and more trouble.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, Statesman.

A Natural Mistake.

Not long ago a Milford man came to this city bent upon having a good time. He had it, according to his understanding of the term, and when the shades of night had fallen he started for home, in a condition which did not promise a rapid trip. He manifested a desire to become acquainted with all parts of the road, and over portions of it, here and there, he lingered lovingly, but for what reason other people could not see. Some of the night had passed when he reached the vicinity of the rolling-mill in Fair Haven. In an enjoyable stupor he stumbled in, and took lodgings on the ground. Soon the workmen discovered him, and they dragged him in, where the molten iron glared at the walls and roof, the bright sparks were flying all around, the laborers seemed in the alternation of horrible shadows and lurid flame like inhabitants of a little pandemonium. The scene might naturally remind one of stories in the abode of the damned. They shook the man from Milford until his eyelids rose and revealed to him the interior of the mill in all its impressiveness. "Who are you, and where do you come from?" said the workmen. The frightened reveler stared about him as he replied, "Well, when I was on earth I lived in Milford."—New Haven Palladium.

Irish and Yankee Stories.

Harper's Drawer.

A friend of the Drawer during the past summer visited the lakes of Killarney and passed a little hut or cabin occupied by a descendant of the far-famed Kate Kearney, that dangerous beauty of long ago. As he approached it, the guide began his legends about the locality:

"Do you see that mountain?" said he, "behind the cabin there?—I mane Kate Kearney's descindant's cabin. Well, it's no less nor 2,500 feet high, and it is well known that whin Kate Kearney from the top of it unloosed her hair, it touched the base there fornint ye."

"Is it possible?" said our friend.

"Indade, thin, it is sir; but shure I see that you're from America, and as for stories it's not worth while to be tellin' them to one of your people. Didn't I come wid some gintlemen from the States to this place a short time ago, and the divil such stories I ever heard in my life as they gave me. I wondher if they could be true? And wondhering I have been, ever since I heard thim, what wondherful places and things ye must have there? I wondher if the stories were thrue?" again said the guide, as it carried to the depths of doubt and reflection.

"What are the stories?" said our friend.

"Shure," said the guide, "I couldn't be tellin' all the stories in a short ride like this; but one of thim has struck my heart and soul, and I'll never forget it—niver, niver! I wondher if it can be true?"

"Well, let us hear it," said our friend, "and we will decide."

"Well," said the guide, "afther I told them some of my tales, shure they began to give me back the wondhers, and one of thim—a very dacent-lookin' man he was, and not given, I should think, to courtin' the divil by lyin'—began to tell of the splendid hotels yez have in America, and—I'll niver forget it—told me that there was one in New York called the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and that it was three miles and a half long; not only that, sir, but that the waithers rode round on ponies sarvin' the guests! I wondher if that was thrue!"

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

FOR 1879.

Established 1851.

The position of the foremost Republican newspaper in the United States will be sustained by THE NEW YORK TIMES by the same policy in virtue of which that position has been attained.

THE TIMES will continue to place fidelity to the interests of the Republican Party above the pursuit of personal aims or private ambition, and will steadfastly insist that the usefulness of any party must be measured by the extent of its devotion to the honor and welfare of the country. In the future, as in the past, the attitude of THE TIMES will be that of independence within the Republican Party. The maintenance of the national credit; the purification of the public service; the advocacy of all seasonable projects of fiscal reform; rigid economy in public expenditures; opposition to subsidies and corporate jobbery in all its forms, and the preservation of equal rights to all citizens, North and South, will be the salient points of the policy of THE TIMES.

THE TIMES will continue to be distinguished as an enterprising, accurate, and carefully edited newspaper. The acknowledged excellence and fulness of its correspondence by mail and telegraph, from all parts of the world, will be adequately maintained, and its facilities for collecting domestic and foreign news will be expanded to meet the increasing demands of our time.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself, as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No theories subversive of the principles on which the sacredness of family ties, and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper especially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. It will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1879.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—Fire up.

—Look out for the plants.

—To-day is one minute longer than yesterday.

—This weather is giving all hands "a great stiff."

—The Ancient Order of United Workmen gather for work to-night.

—Mrs. Mack's attorneys this afternoon, entered a motion for a new trial.

—Everybody now can travel abroad. At least they can take a Chilli trip.

—The shows seem loth to come to Janesville until the Opera house thaws out.

—Notbohm Bro's horse smashed a cutter for them near Buggs' coal yard yesterday.

—Fred Quinn, of Elgin, arrived home last evening and will remain until Sunday night.

—Dug King has got too much cold, and is kept away from the desk in the post-office.

—The dearest of friends now pass each other coolly. Jack is to blame for all the estrangements.

—Frank L. Bond returned yesterday to Chicago to resume his studies at the Rush Medical College.

—It is estimated that the Mack murder trial has thus far cost the county from $3,000 to $3,500.

—The Temple of Honor have their secret cold water meeting to-night. They will have an ice time of it.

—It is now expected that the motion for a new trial in the Mack murder case will be argued next Monday.

—Sam Dickey has been bound over to the Circuit Court in the sum of $275, in default of which he still remains in jail.

—The County Committee on Claims are in session at the Court House, looking over the accounts of the County officials.

—This is the time of the year when dates are apt to be spoiled, especially when you write 1878 when you mean 1879.

—Little Freddie Young was run over by No. 2's coal cart last evening, while going to the west side fire, but luckily was not seriously hurt.

—Horace McElroy Esq, gives his first paper on "Thackeray" before the ladies of the Mutual Improvement Club to-morrow afternoon.

—The Court Street Literary Society make a study of William Cullen Bryant this evening. An interesting programme has been arranged.

—The first meeting of the Art Section of the M. I. C. will be held next Monday evening. Mrs. Colling and Mrs. Dr. Judd will present papers.

—The Endowment Rank of the Knights of Pythias will be organized to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at Castle Hall. A full attendance is requested.

—One of our coal and wood dealers has been longing for real cold weather so as to liven up his business. He don't long as much as he did, now that he sits by a red hot stove trying to thaw out one nose and a pair of ears.

—It is now definitely decided that the annual concert of the Bower City Band will be given Tuesday evening, January 14th at the Congregational church. Tickets are to be sold at thirty-five cents each or three for one dollar.

—One week from to-day the church folk are to pray for the press and for the editors. If this is to include Brick Pomeroy and others of his kind, the services should commence at the break of day and end in a watch-meeting.

—Sheriff Colley yesterday received from his son D. D. Colley, of Dodge Center, Kansas, a fine antelope, from which the Sheriff and his family will have some sumptuous feeds. Frank Tappan has the skin and purposes to stuff it.

—Some of the youthful jokers are having rare sport. They tell a man his nose is frozen or his ears are nipped, and then watch him bathe in a snow-bank. It takes no proof to make a man believe that he has been nipped by the frost such weather as this.

—Nicholas and Christy Andrews, two brothers, who live near Darien, were brought before Justice Prichard yesterday to answer to the charge of stealing a horse blanket from Mr. Ott's shop. Christy was discharged, but Nicholas pleaded guilty, but claimed that he was drunk at the time. He was fined $10.

THE WEATHER.

At 7 o'clock this morning the thermometer stood at 22 degrees below zero, and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 1 degree below zero.

The indications to-day are, for the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys and upper lake region, stationary or rising barometer, stationary or lower temperature, generally clear weather, with diminishing north and west winds.

TWO YEARS IN WAUPUN.

A young man named James Edwards was arrested a few days ago for forging A. D. Hendrickson's name to an order on E. T. Foote for a suit of clothes. He pleaded guilty to the charge and also acknowledged having forged Mr. Hendrickson's name to a note for $70 which he offered to sell to Mayor Norcross for $60. He failed to obtain any goods or money on either forgery. His only object seems to have been to secure some place where he could be cared for at the expense of the State, as he was out of work and out of money. He was this afternoon sentenced by Judge Conger to two years in the penitentiary. He seemed quite pleased at his success in getting a job.

A PUBLIC INSTALLATION.

The Odd Fellows are odd fellows indeed for the falling of the mercury inspires them with no fear. Last evening about forty of them bundled up and drove across lots to Milton Junction, where there was a public installation of officers elect of the lodge there. Rev. Jenk Ll. Jones gave an earnest, off-hand talk at the close of the other exercises, and a bounteous supper followed. The attendance at the exercises was quite large, and the affair in all respects passed off joyously. The party from this city made a successful trip, and there are no marks of any assault upon them by any of the Frost family.

A GREAT CRY BUT LITTLE FIRE.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the fire bells were on their taps, and the fire lads run out their "masheens" in response to an alarm from the Fourth ward. It seems that some children while at play in a room in O. C. Ford's residence started a blaze, but it was quickly put out before any stream of water was needed.

About half-past 5 o'clock the bells again sounded. It proved to be a burning chimney in Abe Parker's house in the Second ward and the engines were not needed.

At seven o'clock last evening another burning chimney was discovered and the cry of "fire" raised. It was at the residence of Josh Corning. The fire lads were ready to move but their services were not needed.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.

With next Sunday commences the week of prayer, which will be generally observed by the several churches, and by the Young Men's Christian Associations throughout the land. The Executive Committee of the Evangelical Alliance of the United States have announced the following subjects, and recommend that all churches follow out this programme:

For the Sabbath, Jan. 5, as a subject for the pulpit: "Christian Union."

Monday, Jan. 6.—Thanksgiving for the blessings of the year past, and prayer for their continuance.

Tuesday, Jan. 7.—Prayer for the church of Christ; its ministers, its growth in grace, and its enlargement.

Wednesday, Jan. 8.—Christian education; the family, the young, colleges, seminaries of learning, Sunday and other schools; Christian associations of young men and young women.

Thursday, Jan. 9.—For nations: rulers and people; for peace and religious liberty in the earth.

Friday, Jan. 10.—The press: for a blessing on publishers, editors, and authors; the cause of temperance and other social reforms.

Saturday, Jan. 11.—Home and foreign missions and the conversion of the world.

On Sabbath evening, January 12, it is suggested that public union meetings be held for prayer, praise, and the preservation of the object and work of the Evangelical Alliance.

MILTON JUNCTION.

—Mr. P. Bond is sick with inflammatory rheumatism.

—The typo made us say Wills instead of Mills in our notice of the marriage of Miss Ida Mills week before last.

—Mr. Austin Butts, of Beloit College is home during vacation.

—Mr. David McCulloch sold twelve hogs last week that averaged 447½.

—Mr. C. J. Bliss went East last week to visit his father who lives at Gennessee, Allegheny county, New York.

—Mrs. J. P. Bulles is spending the week visiting friends at Wheeler Prairie.

—Mr. Joe Button is home, to spend New Years.

—Miss Addie Babcock spent the past week visiting friends in Edgerton.

A Medicine Chest for 25 Cents.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a good cathartic. SWAYNE'S TAR AND SARSAPARILLA PILLS are prepared expressly to meet this necessity; being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Pine Tree Tar, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, produce no griping, and are truly a valuable purgative aperient, anti-bilious and cathartic medicine They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, bilious, intermittent, remittent and congestive fevers, languor, drowsiness, aching pains in the back, head, slight chills, with flushes of heat, female irregularities, and for a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual as DR. SWAYNE'S TAR AND SARSAPARILLA PILLS. If your druggist or storekeeper has not got them, or will not procure them for you, we will forward them by mail on receipt of price, (in currency or postage stamps), 25 cents a box, or five boxes for $1. —:o:—

This important work, a collection of the best and brightest gems to be found in the whole field of English poetry, was begun in the fall of 1871, and contains 1245 poems by over 400 authors, English and American.

It has been the aim of the editor to present a comprehensive collection—an ENCYCLOPEDIA—of the poetry of the English language, one that will be a welcome companion at every FIRESIDE. Each poem has been given complete, and great care has been taken to follow the most authentic and approved editions of the respective authors. Nearly all the longer minor poems that have become classic will be found in this volume: among which may be mentioned Milton's L'Allegro, Il Penseroso, Comus, and Lycidas; Goldsmith's Deserted Village, and The Traveller; Coleridge's Christabel, and Rime of the Ancient Mariner; Pope's Rape of the Lock, Keats' Eve of St. Agnes, Campbell's O'Connor's Child, Shelley's Adonais, Mrs Southey's Young Gray Head, Macaulay's Horatius, Aytoun's Edinburgh after Flodden, Drake's Culprit Fay, Thackeray's Chronicle of the Drum, and Mrs Browning's Lady Geraldine's Courtship, while in the shorter poems, Shakespeare is represented by 31 selections, Burns by 23, Scott by 19, Wordsworth by 29, Herrick by 14, Hood by 18, Tennyson by 24, Moore by 24, Coleridge by 13, Byron by 16, Shelley by 18, Longfellow by 15, Whittier by 13, Mrs Browning by 14, Campbell by 13, Southey by 13 and others according to their respective merits.

Here will be found the most important poems by prominent authors, besides other poems of note and popularity, all carefully arranged under headings, according to the subjects, thus enabling the reader to see at once all the pieces of any particular character that he may desire.

The selection has been pronounced, by many of our most prominent literary men, one of the best and most complete ever made. The work is furnished with an alphabetical index of the names of the poems, an index of authors and also one of first lines, thus making the means of reference more thorough than in any other work of the kind. Explanatory and corroborative notes have been appended to the volume, and add greatly to its value.

The book makes a very handsome octavo of 1040 pages, printed from new type on fine paper, is illustrated by fourteen engravings on steel, and is beautifully bound. Both in contents and in manufacture this is one of the finest specimens of bookmaking ever produced in this country.

Dr. V. CLARENCE PRICE

—HAS—

Visited Janesville
EIGHTEEN YEARS.

HAS met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all

Chronic Diseases

—OF THE—

THROAT,
LUNGS,
HEART,
STOMACH,
LIVER.

Head, nerves, kidneys, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, &c.

Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.
